

Year 3: How did people survive up to 4000 years ago? Knowledge Organiser

Subject Specific Vocabulary		Stone Age to Iron Age
Hunter-Gatherers	Humans that hunted or forged for food.
Pre-history	A period of history that occurred before written records began.
Archaeologists	A person who studies prehistory through excavating historical sites and analysing artefacts.
Neolithic	A period of time relating to the later parts of the Stone Age
Artefacts	An object made by a human of historical interest
Foraging	Searching for food.
Chronology	The arrangement of fates or events in the order in which they occurred.
Bronze and iron	Metals that were used during the different prehistoric eras.	Sticky knowledge The Stone Age, Bronze Age and Iron Age are known as pre-history Skara Brae was a neolithic village in Britain. Iron Age people lived in hill forts.
Palaeolithic	A period of time relating to the early phase of the Stone Age	The Iron Age ended with the Roman invasion of Britain.
			